

POSITION	Assistant or Associate Professor of Agribusiness Economics
STARTING DATE	January 3, 2008 or as negotiated
RESPONSIBILITIES	This tenure-track, nine-month position has a 50% research and 50% teaching responsibility in agribusiness management. The successful applicant will be expected to develop a nationally and internationally recognized research program focusing on consumer economics, marketing, agribusiness management, industrial organization, or related topics. Applicants should possess excellent quantitative and communication skills, and the motivation to work in multi-disciplinary teams. The successful applicant will be expected to secure external funding to support her/his research program and graduate students. Teaching responsibilities will include 2-3 undergraduate and graduate courses each year, academic advising, and direction of student research. The successful applicant also will be expected to participate in outreach activities of the department, college and university, as appropriate. For consideration at the associate professor level, applicants must demonstrate a proven record of research and teaching accomplishments.
QUALIFICATIONS	Ph.D. in agricultural economics, agribusiness, economics, business, or related field.
SALARY	Competitive, commensurate with background and experience. An attractive benefits package is available.
APPLICATION	Applicants should submit a letter of application, resume, and the names and addresses of three professional references to: Prof. Edward Jaenicke, Chair Search Advisory Committee Department of Agricultural Economics and Rural Sociology Penn State University 103D Armsby Building University Park, PA 16802
CLOSING DATE FOR APPLICATIONS	Review of applications will begin June 29, 2007, and continue until a qualified candidate is identified.

For information on the department and its programs, see: <http://www.aers.psu.edu/>

PENN STATE IS COMMITTED TO AFFIRMATIVE ACTION,
EQUAL OPPORTUNITY AND THE DIVERSITY OF ITS WORKFORCE