

Faculty Position

Department of Agricultural and Resource Economics
College of Agriculture and Natural Resources
Research and Teaching Position
Assistant/Associate Professor

University of Maryland at College Park

The Department of Agricultural and Resource Economics seeks a faculty appointee who will develop distinguished research and teaching programs in any field of economics related to agriculture, natural resources, or the environment. The appointee is expected to develop a creative research program that serves the public interest at the state, national or international level. The appointee is also expected to teach courses that fit into the instructional programs of the Department at the undergraduate and graduate levels and that enhance the overall quality of education in these programs. The rank of the appointment is at the assistant or associate professor level. The Department has a strong preference for candidates with a proven record of research and publication. The position is a nine month, tenure-track position, with rank and salary commensurate with the candidate's record.

Candidates should possess a doctorate in agricultural economics, economics, or an equivalent field. A statement of qualifications and research and teaching interests, resume, official graduate transcripts, summary or abstract of dissertation, copies of publications or working papers, and names and addresses of at least three references should be submitted to:
