DEPARTMENT OF ECONOMICS
COLLEGE OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION
THE UNIVERSITY OF TENNESSEE, KNOXVILLE

JOB DESCRIPTION: The Department of Economics seeks to fill two tenure-track positions, subject to budgetary approval, at the rank of assistant or associate professor, beginning August 2010. Fields of interest are Environmental Economics, Econometrics, International Economics, and Open Economy Macroeconomics. We seek excellent applied researchers with strong empirical skills and a willingness to contribute to departmental and college needs. Responsibilities include high quality research, graduate and undergraduate instruction, and a commitment to fostering the development of departmental activities. Ph.D. in economics or equivalent required.

THE DEPARTMENT: The Department of Economics at The University of Tennessee, Knoxville, offers the B.A., B.S.B.A., M.A. and Ph.D. degrees. Forty-three graduate students are in residence for the academic year 2009-2010. The department has 17 full time faculty members and 7 adjunct, research or part-time faculty members. The department supports a regular seminar series, a 24 station experimental economics laboratory, and 8 station stat lab for graduate students, and cooperates closely with campus research units such as the Center for Business and Economic Research and the Center for Corporate Governance.

OTHER INFORMATION: The University of Tennessee is the official state university and land-grant college for the State of Tennessee. The Knoxville campus is a comprehensive institution offering a wide range of undergraduate and graduate degrees. Enrollment is 26,802; there are 21,132 undergraduates and 5,670 graduate students.

The Knoxville metropolitan area, with a population of 691,152, is the commercial hub of East Tennessee and a major center for science and technology. It is the home of the Tennessee Valley Authority (TVA), Oak Ridge National Laboratory, National Center for Transportation Research, Pilot Oil, Clayton Homes, Ruby Tuesday’s and HGTВ. The City of Knoxville is 40 miles from the Great Smoky Mountains National Park and is near several large and beautiful TVA lakes.
