

JEL Classification = J (Labor) and R (Urban)

Assistant Professor

The Department of Economics at Wake Forest University invites applications for a new tenure-track assistant professor position effective July 2009 – for a candidate who specializes in labor economics and/or urban economics and who will contribute to the teaching of the department's data analysis class. We are looking for candidates who will be accomplished researchers and committed, successful teachers. Pay will be competitive with other universities with nationally-recognized academic reputations. Applicants should send their vita, a sample research paper, a statement of teaching philosophy and three letters of recommendation to arrive by December 12. WFU welcomes and encourages diversity and seeks applications from women and minorities. CONTACT: Search Committee, Department of Economics, Box 7505, Wake Forest University, Winston-Salem, NC 27109.

Located in Winston-Salem, NC, Wake Forest University is a private, coeducational institution with a student-faculty ratio of 10:1. Ranking among the top thirty national universities, it offers a vibrant intellectual community with a rich cultural life, an impressive array of facilities and an active athletics community. For facts about the University, go to <http://www.wfu.edu/visitors/quickfacts.html>. For facts about Winston-Salem, go to <http://www.cityofws.org/Home/DiscoverWinston-Salem/Articles/CityInformation>. For additional information about the economics department go to <http://www.wfu.edu/economics/>.